  COMMENT: MAY HAVE BEEN BORN IN CLYDE

I am writing this for Agnes Meyer Rafferty. It is different things I remember and know of my parents and my husband's parents. This is the way I remembered and the way I felt, maybe not as others saw it, but as I saw and felt.

MY MOTHER

My mother was Johanna Clara Westerholt, born March 13, 1879, at Ascheberg, Westfaler, Germany. She was the daughter of Bernard Henry Westerholt and Josepha Elizabeth Stuchman. Johanna was one of twelve children and the 3rd Johanna in the family. The other two preceded her in death. Mother's, mother (Josepha) had T.B., as a child, and four of her children died with T.B. Four others of the family died of scarlet fever. So there was her brother, Bernard and her sisters, Josephine and Mairia left besides her. Bernard was a carpenter, like his father and they had a small acreage where they lived. Bernard has inherited that. Her sister, Mairia has handicapped. I don't know for sure, but as mother talked about her – I felt like she was a club foot. When she started to school, she was sent to an Aunt in the city, so she wouldn't have to walk so far. Mother said, she had 4 miles to school that they walked daily – to and from. Josephine had her tonsils removed when 16 and she walked home from railroad and her leg hurt her. She was 2 years younger than mother. She had several operations on her leg. She had a running sore which didn't heal. She was married to John Kloppenberg who was a railroad engineer. She was married to him five years. She had two daughters, Clara and Lena, when John died. She later married Henry Schulze. He preceded her in death about ten years. She had 4 children from this union and three before she did. At this writing, January 2, 1989, she still has two living children. Her leg healed after penicillin was given her.

Back to Mother. Mother remembered when her father died. She said, he was so tall he had to duck his head as he went through the door. He fell off a ladder which fell on him and it broke his back. Her older sister took care of him a lot and lifting him. She fell ill shortly after her father died and she was told her sister died of T.B.

Mother finished school, said about 16, and she worked wherever she could find work. She liked outdoor work so she done a lot of field work. One winter she decided she didn't want to work outdoors. So she went to her Uncle's who was a saloon keeper in the city. Her job was to help take care of the young ones. The residence was back of the saloon and if they got behind in the saloon with washing glasses, they from the house was called on to help to catch up and back they'd go in the house again. She said, every morning they'd have to get up and scrub up the saloon and clean out the spittoons. She said, to clean those things out made her sick and she hunted for a job back into the fields.

She got a job with Anton Pieper (my dad's brother). There she worked as a hired hand. Uncle Anton sent my Dad to get her from her home in Ascheberg and Mother and Dad hit if off from then on. Uncle Anton was hard on Mother, as she belonged to the working class and they frowned on Dad having anything to do with her. Mother said, she could work beside any man cutting and tying up the grain and still after a hard days labor, he (Anton) insisted she spin 2 hours yet that nite. Mother told me – she often wondered how Dad could work so hard and Uncle Anton could boss and get out of lots of things so easy.

Mother tells, they all washed up for a meal and they had their sleeves rolled up and before they sat down at the table, the girls had to roll down their sleeves – the men didn't have to. Uncle Anton said that when you saw all that bare, it was like looking at a bare butt.

As time went on, she and Dad decided to get married and Mother knew she wasn't welcome in the family, so they decided to go to America (Later Ben Kohlleppel told me there was no way they could of gotten married in Germany at that time. Class distinction was so great). Dad's two brothers had preceded him to America and settled around Hanover, Kansas. Mother said, her Mother had died in 1900. So she had no great care of staying there, Germany. Mother said she loved the trip across the ocean. If I remember right, I think she said it took 3 weeks. Mother told how she loved to watch the Big Fish (as she called them) follow the ship. She wasn't seasick at all.

In Hanover, they decided to work. Dad learning the language and hunting for a place to live. Mother found a place to cook and take care of the children. I think their name was "Vessels". They lived in town. She, Mrs. Vessels, wanted to go to Germany to visit her parents. So Mother took care of the 8 kids and him, kept up the house until her return. She also got things ready for her wedding. Clara Gerleve was her Brides Maid. Uncle Theo had the wedding at their house. They were married in a Catholic Church at Hanover. Dinner and party were at Uncle Theo's. Mother said, the next morning she and Dad loaded what little furniture they had on a haywagon and drove to Barnes, Kansas about 20 miles away, where Dad and she had pooled their finances and bought a farm. It was a new experience for her. She didn't have anyone to talk to buy Dad. Their nearest neighbors were "Hills" and they had come from "England". Mother said, they did visit back and forth. She tried to learn Mother English, what she could.

Mother's first baby was born January 2, in a snow storm, she told me. The first thing the Doctor done when he entered the house (Dr.'s came to the home to deliver babies at the time) he opened his satchel and got out the whiskey. He took a swig of it then asked for a glass to give Mother some.

Mother was scared of snakes, and one day as baby was on the floor, she discovered a snake on her window ledge. She told me, she grabbed the tea kettle with boiling water and poured it upon the snake. Such noise as that snake made she never heard of before or after. The good thing about it, she never saw another snake around there.

She tells when Henry (Hank) was a baby in cradle. She was out helping Dad milk and Ted (Theo) had orders to rock him, if he cried, well rocking wasn't shutting him up and Mother had rice cooked and setting on back of stove. So Ted gave Baby rice. When mother came in, he was stuffing it down and said, "Heinie was hungry".

After Alfons was born, Dad had a accident. All I know was that Dad had a run away and had several ribs broken.

Hugo, Dad's nephew, came and helped Mom with the work. They said Mom's hair turned white at that time. That accident put Mom where she wanted to be, with people. So they sold their home and bought at Olpe, Kansas, which was a German settlement.

After my brother Hank was born, Mother and Dad send her sister Josephine passage to come to America. She was with Mom and Dad a short while, until she met John Kloppenberg and married him.

After Mother and Dad moved to Olpe, Aunt Josephine was a window and she met Henry Schulze.

Four years of no rain, caused Dad worries. In that time, I and my younger brother Francis was born. When Hugo, Dad's nephew, talked Dad into going with him on a Burlington Railway excursion to Western Nebraska, there he bought what we kids called the "Homeplace". He loaded all his cows, horses, implements and furniture on an immigrant railroad car and went with them to Scottsbluff.

Henry Schulze was to travel with Mother and us kids to Hanover where he was to marry Aunt Josephine. Wedding day was Tuesday, day before Lent. She waited all day for them as a blizzard caught them and the train was delayed. They got in during the nite and Father said, beings it was something they had no control over, he married them on Ash Wednesday. At that time no weddings were allowed during Lent by the church. I don't know when they came to Nebraska, but it had to be a short time later, as his brother, Ed, was out there later as he built dad's milk barn.

It was only a four room house what Dad bought. So he decided, first thing he needed to do was build on. So he put 4 rooms upstairs over the four down. A basement under the kitchen, wash room and pantry.

I remember Mother washing with a hand washer and Alfons pushing and pulling the handle while they were building. I also remember Dad coming home from town in the Spring wagon and me climbing up to see if I could find some candy. I got my leg in the wheel when the horses started to go forward, I know it hurt.

I remember mother being in the hospital and us going to see her. Also at that time, "Maud Adams" whose folks worked Dads beets, coming and staying to take care of us. One day, as Dad and the 3 older boys went to see Mom – she took Francis and me to her place. She had a baby brother, that was about our age and we had a fight and I took my brother home. No one was there, so we went out to the road to watch for them. We cried a lot to. Next thing we knew, Ted and Hank was picking us up. And Dad was holding the horses. I imagine we was babied a lot. The only thing I recall is that Maud told Dad they could hear us cry but couldn't find us. We'd probably fell asleep by that time.

I remember when Mother came home, we were so tickled. But then one morning I got up and there was Ted, Dad and Fr. O'Bern and a Baby – Ted grab me and told me I had to go back to bed and stay there, until they called me and Francis.

Don't know when we got up, but I remember being by Mom's bed and they lowered the casket for her to see the baby. I asked who that was and she said, "that's your brother, Bernard, he died and is an angel in heaven now". I don't remember going to the funeral.

Afterward I learned that when Dad called the Doctor to come to deliver the baby, he was on a call and later I learned that, that was when Aunt Josephine gave birth to Johnny. Dad had to get a Dr. Mitchell, Dr. Faught was her first Doctor, Mother stayed with Dr. Mitchell.

This all left Mother in pretty poor health. Mother seemed to be in bed a lot. She was in hospital and out and always not too strong. Later I learned Mother had a hysterectomy when she was hospitalized the second time.

I remember when I was real little, I wasn't going to school yet, Mom asked me if I'd make a corn bread for supper. My Godparents had made me a foot stool and I got that and put it by Mom's feet. She told me what to get. I got all the ingredients and she named them and stirred the cornbread up and then I had to get the long black bread pan to put it in. I still remember how I hated to grease that pan with my fingers, so after that, there was a small paint brush in the grease bucket. My cornbread was good and I always remembered it as the first dish I made.

Mother, as I said wasn't very well, so she got a bread dough mixer. She'd sit and tell or even put the ingredients in it and my first recollection was Dad turning the handle, next it was Alfons. I remember when I done it the first time – by the time it reached a ball – I was awful tired. Mom used that for several years. Later she was able to knead it again.

Dad was doing lots of buildings. He got his first car in 1916. I was 5 years old then and he built a garage and a big room on the side for a washing machine with a separate engine. He bought Mom a double tub Dexter washer. Later he built a milk barn and in one corner he moved the washer. As the same engine they could use for running the milkers. The room on side of the garage was used as shop, with all blacksmith equipment in it. When I got older I used the washer in the milk barn.

Mother always raised a big garden and chickens, geese and ducks. A couple years she even tried to raise turkeys, but they didn't go so well. She raised lots of chickens and geese. She taught me how to pick them for pillows. I know she said it took seven geese, seven years to make a complete feather bed, pillows and all.

In the fall, we'd put a sale ad in the paper and we'd sell dressed geese. The money Mother got from that was hers. Egg money bought all the groceries and most of the clothes. The milk money was Dad's – I know we were always glad when the geese and ducks were all dressed and gone. We always had to have a goose for Christmas. We usually had a chicken of some kind for Thanksgiving.

I remember when the boys started to haul beets and Mother would take them lunch – we'd walk out with her. She always had to help the boys load. She couldn't use the shovel, but she'd grab a beet in each hand and help the boys load. It would leave her so tired, but it made her feel good she could help the boys.

Dad had traded his place in Olpe for a place North of Mitchell and he was having trouble getting renters for it, so he went every Monday in 1924 up and farmed that. By that time we'd had a tractor for six or eight years and he'd move that back and forth with a big truck. He used a pickup to go back and forth. He'd come back on Saturday nite. Mother would have lots of baked stuff and bread to send back with him. Dad had a good crop that year. Mother and I had to go help him at thrashing time. Dad and bachelor neighbor had the idea we could use his neighbor's house to cook in and we'd cook for both. I remember we got there around nine and dinner was noon – boy did we work. His house had to be scrubbed and all, and Mother forgot a pan to bake with. She went outdoors, found a windmill fan and shaped that, and we had hot cake for dinner. She was glad we only had us and Dad's neighbor to see about supper – we were there three days.

The spring of 1925, Dad decided he'd help Ted out and he could start on that place. Mother just couldn't see Ted up there all by himself, so she talked me into quitting school to go up and help him. I was with him about two weeks when Mother decided she needed me at home. So I stayed and helped Mom. That fall, out beet tenders daughters were married and Mother decided she and I could work five acres of those beets. We finally got those done, but two people were more than glad to get that done. We didn't try that anymore.

Mother, when she sewed was a very neat sewer, but she hated to sew. One time she had a girl come in to make me some clothes as well as her. I remember one time she spent hours on making me a pretty dark red dress piped in white. The first time it was washed, the red ran into the white and she was disgusted! Another time Aunt Josephine made me a dress and she took it all apart and resewed it because she didn't like her sewing and I can still see Dad and her talking about her sewing for her girls after that. I had a cousin, Hedwig, that done a lot of sewing. I needed a new dress – Mother got me some nice material and a pattern and sent me to Hedwig to sew. I'd had Home Ed. In school, but Mother always felt, you never learned anything there. She was surprised when Hedwig told her how and what a nice job I was doing – said I was slow, but that was okay. Well, I done a good job on that dress. I even brought it along with me after I was married. She then enrolled me into a correspondence course. She really liked it when I draped material on her for a dress. Always said, it was the best fitting dress she ever had.

Even though patterns were only 10¢, at the time, Mother always felt like you had to use it several times, but make it different so you couldn't tell it was from the same pattern.

Mother really made the most beautiful soap from cracklings and old grease. She taught me how. But she'd boil it twice and August, after I married him, would tell me it washed clean although it wasn't white. Making soap was hard on Mothers hands and she'd have sore hands, although she used gloves while cutting and packing away.

Several of the folks friends while they were at Olpe, came to see them. I remember one fall, Dad had 3 boys from there helping in the beet harvest, before his sons were able to help. Several years later, one of them showed up with a family. He was out of work and broke – Mother and Dad took them in (I must have been around nine) and helped them get a house and work. They accepted the beds, stove and cabinet they gave them.

I especially remember the baby they had. I could rock and sing to it – I could spend all my time with it. I don't remember what happened to the family. It seems to me after a year, they disappeared, but that could be as I remembered it.

After I left school, and was back with Mother we shared the weekly mending. I done the washing and ironing and Mother asked if I'd darn the socks. She'd do the overalls. Mother had the closet full of overalls that needed mending and about four bushel of socks. I stayed with it until I had the socks darned and then got the socks darned every week. It wasn't long until Mother showed me how to patch overalls and once the closet was empty, I kept them up too. Even after I was married I done the laundry for mother. First year I brought my wash to her house and used her washer and done up the wash. After the first year August bought me a Maytag and I don't her laundry, as well as my brother Alfons', who moved away from home.

In April of '25, my cousin Ben arrived with a friend. Dad got him a job with Uncle Henry Schulze and he offered a friend work as long as he wanted to stay. Dad felt he really didn't need him, but this man wasn't too ambitious and took the little wages Dad offered him. It came to 4th of July and Ben said he'd like to go to Akron to see Uncle Henry Pieper. Hank, Ben, Alfons and Les (Ben's friend) went and Uncle Henry being in harvest hired Leo. After harvest, he came back and he and Ben decided they wanted a job so they could get farming on their own. Dad took them to Gus Helt, Sugar Company Supervisor, and he asked them if they were willing to feed sheep for the Sugar Company.

So they set up a 2 room beet shack and fed sheep. Mother offered to bake their bread, if they furnished the flour and I done their laundry and mending until March of '26. By that time they were on a farm and Ben had married Leo's sister. Then that August, Leo married Uncle Henry's girl Gertrude.

In May of that year, my oldest brother Ted, married and they set up house keeping. Rose got pregnant right away and had morning sickness real bad. Mother sent me up there for a couple weeks and then wanted me back home.

In '27, my brother, Hank, got married and August and Laurence followed them out to Nebraska. Dad had a man working for him, but he wanted out so Dad hired August. We gradually got to know each other and I met his parents at the time when Dad wanted Mother and me to come after him at Clyde. Mother thought two women had no business on the road themselves and she invited Hank's wife and baby to go along and had August drive us.

Then in July, while harvesting barley with my brother, they got stuck and they had a gun on the tractor. They saw something move in the grain, every round they did it moved farther in. After they got stuck, they decided to play it safe and move the gun. While putting it in the car, both barrels went off and hit August from behind in his knee joint. His left leg was amputated that night, July 18. He stayed there until September, when his brothers came out and Joe drove him home.

In the fall of '29, he came out again and Dad helped August find a place to farm and we got married then in January. We lived out there four years and I saw where irrigating was too

In the fall of '29, he came out again and Dad helped August find a place to farm and we got married then in January. We lived out there four years and I saw where irrigating was too much for August and he wrote his Dad to find us a place in Missouri. My Dad told August to get an immigrant car and take his stuff out that way. My youngest brother, Francis, rode in the car. By that time we had 2 children and August drove our '29 Chevy and us back to Clyde.

Mother was very upset when we left. At that time, Ted was at their house and the kids had chicken pox and Mother knew I wouldn't take my babes in when they had chicken pox and Mother knew I'd probably never be home again for Christmas. So she bathed the kids and told me they were safe. I still felt uneasy but August said he believed it would be okay. So we went. A couple weeks later at Grandpa Meyer's our kids broke out with chicken pox – and how!

In March, Ted moved out of the folks house and Alfons who married in September before moved in. Then in July, Uncle Fritz stopped by and they brought Mother to Missouri to me. We had 18 cherry trees and she helped me work up the cherries and she took cherries and mulberry's home with her.

The folks came out to see us every so often but Dad never liked Missouri much and of course, Mother like her home best.

I think it was in '42 when Dad and Mom moved to town. I visited mother and Dad several times in town. They also celebrated their golden wedding, October 28, 1952. All of our family went out except Bernard, Teresa and Leona.

Mother never made it back to Missouri after that. I went home different times when she was ill and was staying to her bed.

On July 20, 1957, I got a call from my brother, Francis telling me Mother had a heart attack and passed away. Mary and Agnes, took Dad, Ben and myself to the funeral.

The following are some of the jokes or incidents I've recalled since I wrote the above.

I had a beau that was saving a seat on the bus for me. That's how it started. Then he finally showed up on Saturday. He visited with the boys first and finally came to the house. This was getting to be quite a hassle for me and I was getting lots of teasing. One Saturday, Mother said, "you want to get rid of him?", and I told her "yes". So when she saw him come to the house, she told me to get a pan of water and stand behind the door. First he'd knock – when it wasn't answered, he'd open the door and holler "Agnes", that's when Mother had me toss the water on him. Well I got rid of him. He never came back. Dad really laughed when he was told about it.

Alfons used to like to get in water fights with Mom and me. But Mother would gradually see so we'd get the best of him.

Clara Kloppenberg could always work Mother. I always wondered why, when Clara told something, Mother believed her – and whatever it was, it was better for Clara. If she was there, and you'd tell your version, Clara would have to admit you was right. She was trying to work Mother when we were to get married. She wasn't going with anybody and she wanted Mother to talk me into having her for a bridesmaid and Laurence for bestman. I simply told Mom who we had chosen and asked and it would take more than Laurence and her for a Bridesmaid to have Laurence accept her for a bride. Mother agreed. I think she felt Mother let her down that time. After that, she never had tales to tell on me. I always felt she wanted people to think she was better than most people and no one had problems as she had. She finally got married to Matt Brown and the last time I saw her she was still having a bad time in her mind.

Most of my children remember Grandma's hair. It was long and white and I think it was a fascination for them to watch her comb her hair.

I had fell through the porch floor and we were to build a new one. Mother told Dad to make it as big so it came out even with the house and build the roof to match the kitchen slant. It would make a lot nicer looking house. Dad would of built it over as it was. At that time, she talked Dad into painting the house. She was out with Mary who was the principle painter and helped her all the while she'd talk and say German things to her and Mary was lost what she was saying and answered what she thought. It really tickled Mother a lot.

Mother just had no use for dandelions in the yard. When they lived in town and Mother was able, she'd be out digging them up and Dad made the remark, "they don't get to bloom anyway", cause he had a little hand lawn mower and he'd mow twice a week and then water it after each mowing. He wanted it to look nice.

I wasn't too old, and I can recall that a young man stopped at our house and asked Mother if he could buy some of her iris' for his Mother's grave. Mother had a big patch of cream color blooming. It was Memorial Day. Mother got a knife and cut him an arm full, but she wouldn't take pay for them. She told him, she was glad that he wanted to put flowers on his Mother's grave and she would share since she couldn't put any on her Mother's grave. It was one of those incidents that made a big impression on me.

Also one winter, Jack Lacy, a bachelor, who lived in a sod shanty a mile from our home, had been at his sisters who was a mile the opposite direction from our house. It was cold and he was walking the distance. He stood at the stove, he was so cold. Mother gave him a towel for him to remove the ice off his mustache and eye brows. Then she opened the oven door and set him before it. He then asked Mother to make him some strong hot ginger tea. Mother never heard of that before and she asked how to make it. One teaspoon of ginger spice and put that in a cup of boiling water. She gave him that. Mother wanted to give him something to eat, but he didn't ant any. He slowly drank the tea and left. Then Mother telephoned his renter to watch for him, cause she didn't think he was too well. It wasn't too long, they called back and said he made it home fine. My Dad dropped by his place the next day and asked how he was faring. Dad said he was grateful to Mother. He told Dad, "She was an angel."

MY DAD

Bernard John Pieper, born September 10, 1878, Bellerbech, Westfalen – Youngest son of John Henry Pieper and Gertrude Werlemann. This couple had nine children. When my father was born, his eldest brother was nineteen and he was going to have inherited the place. He remarked that he wasn't gonna wait until my father was of age until he could claim it as his. So he gave it up and let Uncle Anton inherit it. Uncle Theo then went to America.

My father told me – He slept with his grand-dad who was making his home with them at the time. He told me that his sister Theresa who later married William Kohlleppel was his favorite sister. He had a pet squirrel when he was a kid, and he had a special burial place for him when he died. He liked to bowl, but wasn't too fond of sport. He wasn't very fond of cards, but in his younger days would fill in when needed.

As a young man, he went to agriculture college and spent his year as an apprentice before returning home to farm.

His brother, Anton, had him drive to Ascheberg to pick him up a new girl he hired for help on the farm. Dad told me, he never before saw such a pretty girl and they made it fine together, she was my mother. He never said anything of how the folks tried to discourage him where Mother was concerned. After working around her for a year or more, they decided to go to America to where his eldest brother and his brother next to him were living. They went together on a boat. It took three weeks of traveling on boat to get to America. Three long and hard weeks for Dad, as he was so sea sick, he was confined to his bed all the time.

They planned to buy themselves a place and Mother gave her money to him and together they bought and paid for furniture and tools to farm with, besides a payment on the place. The place was at Barnes, Kansas. It was a rocky place – the house was built of rock. White he was doing this and helping Uncle Theo wherever he could, as he was staying with them, Mother was working for Mr. Vessels, helping take care of his kids while his wife went to Germany to visit her folks.

October 28, 1902, Dad and Mom got married. Barney Yelick and Clara Gerleve was their witnesses. Uncle Theo and Aunt Bertha had a dinner at their house and the usual beer that accompanied such a wedding. They kept Dad up all that nite.

Oh, before I forget – My Dad's name was Bernard, but these German's thought they'd Americanize him and they called him Barney. So after he landed in Hanover, he was called Barney. He signed all papers, etc., B.J.

Mother and Dad moved the day after the wedding to their home in Barnes. Mother said the trip on the haywagon seemed like a long ways – Dad never said. I believe they had a cow tied on behind too. Dad picked up lots of rock and had corn planted. He had a lot of apple trees and peach trees, and they were fruit full years. He and Mother would pick the fruit and when he had enough for a wagon full, he'd go into Barnes, I think they lived about 2 miles from there, and he'd sell them. What apples he couldn't sell, he made cider out of them.

One day his horses ran away with him and he was in bed for six weeks. Hugo came and helped Mother with the work while Dad convalesced. One day Hugo had to shave Dad and he shaved his mustache off. Mother said, she didn't like the looks of him that way. So he grew another and never shaved it off again.

At this time, they had three children and Mother wanted to be around people she could talk to. Hills, their English neighbors, were so good. Mother and Mrs. Hill got along so nice and was helping her with Ted, who had started school and couldn't talk English, so they'd learn. Mother was also learning to read out of Ted's books. Dad, with all his business letters would write them out first and have Mrs. Hill see if he'd have the words spelled right, etc. Mother was catching on fast, but she never wrote English. Later on after I moved away, Dad would have to write me, but if he didn't know how to spell – Mother spelled it for him.

They first were taking German papers, gradually English and toward the last they both were big readers – mostly English.

To please Mother, Dad sold his place at Barnes and moved to Olpe, Kansas. That's 12 miles south of Emporia, a German settlement. There the two oldest boys started Catholic school and Mother was happy to be and learn more of life as others knew it. She learned to can. Dad had learned how to preserve meat, but Mother knew how the sausage and things were made. It wasn't too long, that all Dad done was kill and cut up and Mother took care of the rest.

Four years of drought and now five kids was in his family. Hugo asked Dad if he wanted to go to Burlington excursion to Western Nebraska. Dad figured he didn't have anything to lose and went. He found there they irrigated and after four years of drought, that looked mighty good. The place he bought was under Winter Creek Canal district. It only had a four room house, but all around there were still sod houses. So in 1914, Dad put his cattle, horses, implements, and furniture, mom's chickens, in an immigrant railroad car and Dad went with it to feed the livestock.

Mother and us kids was to go with Henry Schulze to Hanover where he was to marry Mother's sister. A blizzard came up and they were delayed. Father married them anyway on Ash Wednesday, said it wasn't their fault that they didn't make it day before, the date the wedding was set. At that time, the church didn't approve of weddings during Lent.

Hugo was to go from Hanover to Scottsbluff with Mother and us kids. He traveled that road quite a bit and he told the conductor that Mother was his wife and we were his kids. It always tickled Hugo because the conductor was so surprised, he thought he knew Hugo, but he never knew he had a family. Hugo never told him different.

Of course, the first thing Dad had to do was to build on to the house and a lean-to to the barn. He started milking and needed a place for cows for shelter. On the house, he put 4 rooms above the 4 rooms and a kitchen washroom and pantry above the basement on the south.

In 1916, he planned on buying and bought his first Model T Ford. So he built a garage with a large room to use as a wash house. He bought Mom a double tub Dexter washing machine. A year or so later, he built the milk barn and moved Mother's washing machine in the corner of the clean u room. So he only needed one machine to run the milker and the washer. The extra room built on to the garage was then turned into a shop and blacksmith equipment enclosed.

Around 1917, he got the first tractor. It was a Samson with Lugs on it. And then, they had to build a machine shed for tractors and other machinery.

In 1914, St. John Catholic Church was burned down and now we needed to get a new church. For a couple of years, they could just manage church in Wellers hall, they danced in it on Saturday nite and had Mass on Sunday. Finally they decided it was time to build, Dad and his two eldest boys helped dig out the basement. Father O'Bern was one who worked with them day in and day out. When they had the basement about finished, Father came to Dad and said, "Barney, I think we need to put a roof on basement and use that for a while – I don't think we can find money for any more for a while" – Dad said, he told Father "Let's try", and he went out for a week with Father and they collected enough money so they could keep building. Dad talked to Hugo and his brother Ted to see if they'd go in with him to donate the High Alter and they did. Dad said, he didn't have the money, but he went to a bank and borrowed it. Also told Father O'Bern he'd give a window, if he'd put in St. Ludger. So he did. After I left home he donated electric bells for the church. The church had the corner stone laid in 1918 and was named St. Agnes. My brother, Alfons, and I made our first Holy Communion shortly after the church was finished. That was the 1st class in new church – then Father O'Bern was moved and Father Maloney arrived. He taught us all Catechism on Sat. himself. Took all day. The Bishop came and four of us kids was confirmed.

After the last baby of Mothers, she was poorly for some time, but with us kids all in school and new church and all, she strived to do what she could. She helped in the Altar Society whenever she could.

With us kids in school, Dad was soon on the school board, taking active in social activities, as well as business. I remember during the war, he being president of the school board, had to go and weigh all babies and kids under school age. He took Mother with him, a lot were German Russians, and they could speak with them. I remember Dad and Mom got a letter of praise from the county for having done their work so quickly and efficiently.

When they wanted to consolidate our school with the city, Dad worked very hard against it, but lost. Later he was told, if he wanted out, he thought it could be easily done. Dad said, "they wanted us, and now they can keep us."

In 1929, Dad went to Germany again. He still had some sisters over there and a brother. He left Mother at home with us kids. Ted and Hank were both married and he had been feeding sheep and were doing good. So he went. Alfons talked Mom into letting him buy a new tractor, as the old one was having problems. Dad had him bought a new 1925 Model T Sedan in '25, so Mother agreed. Dad came home feeling great. While over there, he attended the wedding of Heinie Piper. He went over with Heinie's brother, Ludger, who came over a few years earlier. Heinie inherited the home place over there.

Dad had been having help with the farming. He was steadily increasing and his boys leaving home, so after Hank got married, her cousin August Meyer came out and Dad hired him to help. That was in 1927. He went home for Christmas and was back in 1928. When Dad was in Germany, he wrote Mother asking if she and I could meet him in Clyde, Mo. Well, at that time Mother didn't think two women ought to go out alone on such a trip, 600 miles at that time, and only gravel highways, so she asked Agnes, my brother's wife, if she and baby would like to go and asked if August would drive. He agreed. Wile we were in Clyde, Aunt Bertha died, so Mother went to funeral with Carl Kohlleppel, who was working at the convent. She was back before Dad came back. Uncle Theo was bad at the time, and Dad wanted to see him, so we had to go through Hanover before going home. That was in June.

On July 18, August lost his leg while harvesting barley, in a shot gun accident. August and I were married a year and a half later.

Daddy was feeding sheep heavy in 1929, when the "crash" hit and Dad was hit pretty hard. In 1930, I was married and Alfons started farming for himself. So that left Francis the only kid at home. Dad hired more help. In 1933, he had Ted move home with his family. The work and all was too much for Mother and she suffered a heart attack. It didn't' work out too well, so Ted moved out to Sunflower district. Alfons was married that September in '33, and he moved in with folks in 1934, that too wasn't working, so in 1935 he moved out. They just hired and got along the best they could until 1940 when Francis and Louise got married. They lived together about 11 or 12 years when Mother and Dad moved to town. They celebrated their golden wedding, October 28, 1952.

After Mother's heart attack, she never was strong anymore and she done what was necessary and that was it.

Dad tried to go to daily mass and he was known to have the sidewalks cleaned off to church and back in the winter.

He'd had eye surgery – cataract removed and couldn't see too good and it wasn't too long until he wasn't able to drive the car.

Mother died in 1957 with a massive heart attack and Dad sold his home and belongings and moved in with Francis and Louise. In 1958 he once again went to Germany. His legs were real bad and they kept him in bed there quite a while. He was a year or so at Francis' – was here with me at times – had him in the hospital and out, found he had high blood pressure, as well as an enlarged heart. He stayed a while at Hanks and then bought him another house close to church, so he could go to daily mass. Betty would drop by and make him his supper and found him in bed overnight, called her Dad and was taken to the hospital, he never made it out. He died March 17, 1961 and was buried March 19, 1961.

Now I'll tell things I remember that I left out – When Ben Kohlleppel came to Uncle Henry's from Germany, Ted, Hank, Dad and myself went to see him. That was over Christmas vacation. We found him helping Uncle Henry building on to his house. Dad, at the time, wanted to know about eh folks they left behind after the war. Another time Ben and Anna was married and they, Hank, Dad and myself went to Uncle Henry's. Dad was the biggest cut up you ever saw. He really had one swell time.

One year Dad was very disappointed in me. Potatoes was a good crop, so Mother and I cut potatoes for seed and the next day I planted. It went on like this for several days, I got about five acres planted and I balked. I was tired of planting alone, so the last acre he put into corn. Well, that fall, his potatoes make $1000.00 an acre and of course beat the corn all to heck. The next year, Dad had a potato planter and even the menfolk could cut potatoes then.

Dad always had wine in the cellar even during prohibition time. Dad always offered a social drink when visitors came. He made the wine himself. Mainly rhubarb and grape. He also made my choke cherry. It was very good and was served at August's and my's wedding dinner.

One time during prohibition, my little cousin was at our house and he knew Dad usually got out the wine bottle for a social drink. This one time Dad was sure of his visitor and didn't get the bottle. Little Johnny wasn't talking too plainly, but he was saying Uncle Barney – get the bottle. Dad acted as if he didn't know what he was talking about and put him off with "Yes, after awhile." Boy! Was Dad glad when that man left. I can still see him telling Mother, she should have taken him out of the room.

We had a young man who ran a grocery store and this was during prohibition and when he had grapes he would share them with Dad and he'd make wine and they'd share with him. I remember, one day his man came out with a barrel of grape juice and it was so bulging. Mother didn't know what to do, so she sent me to Dad with he message – "Mom says, come – hurry." I remember I ran all the way in field and back. Dad followed me. Dad saw the barrel – he got the boring bit and bored a hole in it and then that was safe. The juice was starting to ferment, but I believe it made lots of good wine.

Mother found a recipe for dandelion wine and several times we had to pick dandelion blossoms and she'd add raisins, orange and lemons with sugar, after boiling the blossoms, and made wine. Dad only used that on special occasions. Dad even got Mother to make beer, but it was Dad's job to bottle the beer. Later on, he got a barrel – it went lots faster than when you bottle it! The thought just hit me – I bet he was wondering if the kids was helping themselves.

Dad making this wine and all – I never saw Dad drunk. He'd only take a small drink and that was it. He never liked to see anyone who was drunk. I remember how disgusted he was that his niece's husband got drunk on his and Mother's golden wedding. He was the only one and he said he prayed so hard that no one would get drunk.

Talking about praying – Dad, in his day, after mother was gone, you'd see him sitting, if he wasn't reading – he was praying the rosary. If you asked him to pray for you, he'd say, "I'll do that right away," and he'd get his rosary and pray. It sure is a lovely way to remember Dad. Dad never done any business without having the Rosary in his pocket, another lovely thought.

I remember Mother and myself picking the good apples out of a bunch and she sending them to town with Dad. I don't know for sure, but I believe we had 4 bushel, he was to take them to the Mexican sisters. Mother knew they were having a hard time. Dad came home and told us to pick more apples for the sisters, he was at the produce house and was offered money for them and he took it. Mother wasn't too happy with Dad that day.

Daddy was a great guy to get fruit, vegetables, grain, etc. and get it ready for the fair. He brought home lots of blue ribbons. If he didn't know a name of a fruit, etc., he'd rename it. We had a big orchard at home and he had his town property full of fruit after he moved to town. He also kept hens, they were his pets. He spent lots of time with them.

My Dad helped August and myself out financially many times during our married life. In 1935, Francis was coming to see us for Christmas. They sent potatoes, cheese, beans, lard, ½ beef and honey with him. The night he arrived was around the 1st part of December. He asked me where I wanted all that stuff he brought me and named it all off. I said, "Is that all?" I was so surprised, he said, "No, I have a check in my pocket for August a new leg, but I have to see that he gets it and if this isn't enough, Dad said he'd pay it." So we went to K.C. and August had a new leg by Christmas.

When we wanted to find a farm. Dad came out, Ted came with him. They looked all around and when they found what August liked, I was sent to look at it. Dad made the down payment and later when Mother was gone, he paid off the rest. One day, we got a little check in the mail, telling us to see if we could get a little tractor. Ray was so glad, he went to look right away.

Dad was with me a little while after Mother died. He kept telling me, "I was never treated so good as I am here." We didn't have indoor plumbing and he didn't like going out to the John. One day, I got a letter from Dad, asking if we wouldn't put in a bathroom. August said, "How can we? – We don't have that much water," and walked off. I finally asked August, "Now, when I write Dad, shall I tell him we don't want a bathroom?" He said, "No! Don't tell him that, but tell him about the water. We've either got to build a cistern or dig a well." August and I both preferred a well. Our letter came back telling August to get the well. Get a digger and see if he could get water. At the bottom of the letter he wrote – Try North of the house, and that's what we did. We had the water a year before we put in the bathroom.

Dad never got to see that. Although August hated to build that bathroom, he was more than glad afterwards that we had it.

My Dad had a passion of hate for Missouri Mud.

Which is more important Law or People? – That was Sr. M. Ellen homily in communion service today, and that brings up an incident that happened in 1932. Father Maloney went to Ireland for a visit and we had a Benedicture priest from Colorado Sprints to help out. He gave a sermon on fishing – how you must obey the laws and have the right equipment. Well, my Dad was the kind who always invited priests out. This day he was invited at my folks and naturally, he asked Dad if there was any good fishing around. Dad told him, "Yes, the boys get some once in a while." So, Father jump my brother, Francis. Francis said, "I'll show you Father how we get fish, but after your Sermon Sunday, I don't think you'd appreciate it" – Dad never said anything. Father said, "I'd sure appreciate it if you'd show me." So, Francis got Lawrence Meyer, Hank, and Alfons and they took him and Dad to the river and they seine a hole there, and Father was walking up and down the bank looking for the Law Man (Game Warden) and he was so excited at what they brought up. After a couple of sweeps, they asked if that was enough for him. His eyes were bulging and he nodded.

Next Sunday, his Sermon was revised some – Laws wasn't always made for man's benefit and God put everything on earth for man's use and as long as you didn't waste and destroy, that's why God put it there. He never mentioned fishing at all, but Francis said, it was a Sermon for "Him". Being he took his first one so serious, later Dad was telling Father Maloney about it, and he said his housekeeper told him, Father went fishing so many days and only got one or two, and one day he brought home a pile of them and sat on the back porch and whistled all the while he cleaned them. Coming back to Sr. homily – Which is more important – Laws or People?

The place Dad bought in Scottsbluff, as we called the Home Place, was at one time a timber claim. There were three of them, in that area, at that time. Instead of homesteading, they made improvements on the place by planting tress. Dad had a big cottonwood grove and an ash grove on it. In our time, the cottonwood grove held lots of picnics from the church out. Mother and I used to rake and clean it up. Dad also used it to put his claves in while bucket feeding them.

I must have been about 10 or 11 when a Union Carbide salesman went through the area and Dad had Carbide lights installed in the house. The tank that formed the gas was in the basement. They were still in, in 1934 when we left to live in Missouri. But in 1937, when we went out for a visit, they had electricity and the pantry was made into a bathroom. Later on after Mother was gone, the kitchen was remodeled and new cabinets were put in. When Mother got electricity, she done away with the wood and coal cook stove and got a refrigerator in the home. Also, the milkers in the milk barn were run by electricity.

I don't remember it, but I heard Dad say one time when discussing the weather, that he saw it snow in June in Western Nebraska and said he knew he'd never see it again, but he did – towards the last years of his life, snow in June again. Yes, it's unusual, but it does happen. Talking about unusual weather, in 1930, it frosted on the 4th of July. August and I had planned a picnic on Stage Hill. It was cold and we both decided we'd enjoy a fire in our own home. I remember the tops of the tomatoes and Dalhas were all black the next morning, but they came out of it.

As you notice, Dad always was ready for modern equipment. His tractor and cards he learned to drive, although he very seldom drove the tractor, but if something went wrong, Dad always had one of the boys fix it or had a mechanic to. His prize was his two mules – Jack and Jinny, that he used to cultivate with and used to pull beets. He had a certain kind of noise he made that they knew what he meant. Us kids tried to imitate it, but never quite mastered it. We decided it was his false teeth is why he could make that noise. This was when I was a kid. Don't know after I left if he raised horses and mules or not. Talking about Dad raising mules… after the mare had the colts, the colts were locked up and the mare used for work. One time Hank and Alfons (kids) took tin cans and tied the mules tail and turned them loose. I can still see Mom and Dad chase those two mules colts to catch them. When they'd run the tin cans hit their heels and they kept running. The folks had quite a time to catch them – No, Hank and Alfons wasn't around. Don't' know if that was the time Dad took a strap and was gonna spank them and the dog jumped on Dad to protect the kids, and they were protected. A licking they didn't get.

One time Mother and Dad was visiting us and we were going to Grandma Meyers house in the country. August took the lead and my Dad followed. August cut cross country. After we got there, August got out of the car and said to my Dad, "How did you like that for a road?" My dad replied, "I didn't fall in love with it." I knew later, one year when I was in Scottsbluff and drove his car – was going to Alfons' house. I didn't follow the highway. He didn't like it much, told me that's what highways were made for – to use. He was one that kept up with the times.

One time when fast and no water was allowed before Holy Communion and the Holy Father had said we could drink water up to the time of communion. He'd read it in the papers and he said we were allowed to do so and he did. I told him, we needed to wait until we were told – I even asked Father Malachy about that. He said, we were both right – The Holy Father gave permission and it was allowed – I was also right cause he should of waited until Bishop relayed the message. But no wrong was done. Like I said, he kept up with the times.

MY MOTHER IN-LAW

Mary Agnes Lager was born November 16, 1883 and died February 15, 1970. Her parents were Joseph Lager, born October 29th in Germany. Came to USA with his mother, Anna Maire Wabbe Lager, as a small boy.

They settled in Clinton County, Illinois. That is where he grew up and worked, as a blacksmith. He married Anna Maire Herman, May 13, 1862 and she died May 4, 1864. They had a son – He married June 13, 1865 to Agnes Kuhlman Kutte, a widow with one son – to this union, ten children of which Mary was the ninth. She had a younger sister who died when she was two years. So Mary was known as the youngest.

Mary married Albert Meyer, April 29, 1903, who built a new house for her before they got married. To this union 12 children was born, of which August was the oldest.

I met her in 1928. At that time, I found out that her nieces and nephews all was careful what was said around her. I found out she was very critical of them. Later after I married August, she told me many times that I wasn't the woman she'd of chosen for August. But, he told me – that's whom he chose. She criticized me a lot to my face, but I found out later that she bragged about me to the other daughter-in-laws. Of course, I could understand where she was coming from. Albert had taught his children that "Mother" could do no wrong. She done always the best and she thrived on it. She having nine boys, she kept a cattle whip in the chimney safe. August said, she used it on them. But after I got in the family, I think it was more of a threat, I don't think she ever used it then. She used to get "sick headaches" a lot and go down with a backache. She was very active in her church work and her greatest pride was when her son, Bernard became a priest. He was given the name of Father Alfred. Then in September of 1934, her daughter Clara joined the Franciscan Sister, and was given the name of Sister Alfreda.

During World War II, she had five of her sons in service and she'd say to me – "I can't expect all to come back, but I can't imagine who won't come back. Please pray for them." We did, every nite and all returned.

Mary pretty well tried to run her children's lives. Even after they were married, and was insulted when her suggestion wasn't followed. I remember when she was real sick in the hospital, Sister told me – "That woman is going to boss you kids until she's in her grave."

After August and I moved to Maryville, we didn't see too much of her and Dad except on occasions. She always told me, she couldn't' see why I dressed my girls, as boys, around the house. That's something my girls remember. Their grandmother was against shorts for girls and when they saw Grandma come, I first had to tell them to change in a dress – later they ran and changed on their own. We had seven kids before she had another grandchild. After that, others dress that way and nothing more was said and by the time the younger one of ours was here – they didn't have to run and change anymore.

Grandma always had it down that I didn't know much about my religion. That way I made the sign of the cross, she criticized me because I didn't "chase flies away." I finally told her, Father Andrew, our Pastor, was making it like I did – and the way I was taught. She should watch him. After that, I wasn't criticized on that. Fred was going to parochial school, and was having problems in his catechism, and was asking about something, and I quoted the Baltimore Catechism. Grandma immediately questioned me on it, because she was sure I didn't know. We got the book out and it was word for word as I'd quoted it and I finally got some respect that I knew more than some of her kids did. The first few years was hard on me because August had the opinion yet, that his mother was right. She had the notion that he should run as tax collector. He wasn't very much in the notion – put an ad in the paper. But she insisted he go out and get votes. He did go a few days, but only went to a few places and visited with people. He lost that election by three votes. Then when Father Andrew had told Dad and me that the monastery could use a man in the milkbarn, Dad told him he wasn't interested because he had the wheat in. We got to Grandma's and told her. He had to go right away to the monastery and apply for the job. We was told that Leo would take over the farm, but we could keep the wheat. So we made the move. Leo didn't get anything out of the corn.

Grandma thought only she could raise chickens. We wasn't there in Clyde for very long when Conception Ruggle, had a man come to talk on raising poultry. He was trying to teach them to feed commercial feed. Of course, that's all my folks used on baby chicks. I told the bunch, I used that and when asked, what my losses would be, I told them two or three out of 300. You ought to have heard them gasp. The first year I hadn't convinced Grandma, but by the second year she tried it. She would always set the incubator with her own eggs. The year she used the commercial started, she had more hens than usual. She was asked, if she'd set more eggs. She admitted she didn't, she just guessed she had better luck. I remember when August and I was in Maryville, one Sunday, we was to the farm, and she had asked me if I'd look at her hens, they'd dropped in eggs. I gave one look and said, "Let's catch that hen," we did and I showed her that they were full of lice. She wanted to know how I could tell and I said, "Look at her eyes." By that time she was setting to hatching eggs to hatchery and didn't use her incubator anymore.

Grandma had lots of flowers always. She shared a pile with me after we moved to Maryville and had our own home. I had lots of different color Iris and I shared them with her. I still have some of the lilies and peonies on the place, she gave me in 1940. She had a fern peony she took from the farm to town, it's a rare specimen. She gave me a couple of starts and never did anything for me. But when she died, I told Mary Ann she needed to take that because it was rare. Trude, since has gotten a start from her. She grew lots of petunias.

When I came into the family, Grandma used to can lots of fruit, which they ate with bread or she made pie out of. I had a pressure cooker and she learned how to can vegetables. Before that, she canned tomatoes – no beans because she didn't have any luck keeping them and would try corn. That was over with after that.

Grandpa would always help her make soap and it wasn't white, it was brown color. She made hers strictly out of cracklings. When I came in the family – they butchered a 200 lb. Hog every two weeks in the winter. They cured some for summer use, but chicken was mainly their summer meat. They did try and butcher a beef during the winter and she'd can that for summer meat. She done that after having the pressure cooker.

She used to card the wool and make covers. She made us two beautiful covers for our wedding. They were made of print material with a satin border and the lining was out of flannel. Shortly after I got into he family she sent the wool to make batting. That's where I learned to do so too, and I'd have them make wool yarn out of it and sent it to my mother and she would knit August stump socks. They were so much softer than those he bought. Grandma Meyer would give me some old wool clothes that they boys wouldn't wear and I cut them in blocks and made wool comforters out of them. Grandma also pieced several pretty quilts in her time. During World War I, some of the kids went around and got names for the quilt – it cost them 10¢ to get your name on the quilt. They embroidered the name on the quilt and then Aunt Agnes and Grandma quilted it. It was auctioned off and the money given to the Red Cross. It sold for $60.00, Uncle Fritz bought it. After Aunt Agnes died, the quilt was found. It had been badly used and some wanted to throw it away, and Herman Lager rescued it and at this writing Lorene, Herman's widow, still has it. I done my first quilting on one of Grandma's patched quilts.

Grandma done a lot of her things by hand. One time she came to visit us when Mary was a baby, in Scottsbluff, and Laurence asked her if she'd have time to patch him his overalls. So he brought her a number. She always done them by hand. She worked all day and had lots more to do, I finally asked her if she cared if I patched them with machine so we'd get through with them. She asked if I could do that. I informed her – no trouble, and finished them up in no time. She went home, telling Dad, if I could patch with machine, so could she. She'd work at it until she could. It wasn't long before she had it mastered.

Joe always done Grandma's papering and she missed him so much when papering needed done. Paulie asked me, if I'd help her and we'd see if we could paper for Grandma. I'd never done it in my life, but she showed us and after we'd finished, she told us we'd done almost as good as Joe.

Whenever I had a baby, Grandma was with me from Bernard until Trude. When Ed came, the doctor was called, Grandma saw he'd be there before the Doctor and she didn't know what's what – so she had August go get Mrs. Schiever. She was so excited she hollered out the door, "Francis come quick." As Mrs. Schieber stepped in the room, Ed arrived and Mrs. Schieber took over. We had a problem with bandage. It was that time to hold the navel in place, they thought, and to Grandma mine was always too narrow. Then later on when Doctor advised you not to use them, she'd always say, "they treat these babies like animals anymore." I wasn't in favor of them, cause I felt they were wet most of the time and just another thing you had to change when changing the baby.

As they years went by and we didn't see so much of each other, I tried to see that we'd go to Grandma's once a month when they lived in Clyde. She wasn't hearing so good and always wanted me to sit in front of her. Evidently, my pitch of my voice wasn't reaching her and I'd always come home with a sore throat. She could understand August, but I guess I must have told her more news.

She could understand August, but I guess I must have told her more news.

One thing I used to accuse her of – when they'd drive in yard, the kids would run out to the car. She'd pump the kids and had all the news before she'd come in the house.

Grandma was in the hospital and Trude was working there. She told me, the hospital soup didn't taste good, could I make her noodle soup and send it in with Trude. I did. Then Sister called me and asked if I could come in, she'd like to talk to me. She said Grandma needed to be anointed and would I approach her about it. Well I decided to call Sister Augustine at the Mount and she said, yes, she'd do it, but she had no way of getting there. I went after her and Trude said, Sister and I hadn't got off the floor when Father Leo was there to anoint her. I stopped by and informed Paulie what I had done and she informed me, that if she died – then it was my fault. After Grandma got better, she informed me that I needn't to have hesitated about anointing her and that Paulie didn't know it all. After that every time she was in the hospital, she was anointed. I remember one time, the kids was taking turns staying with her, there always was two. But when our turn came I stayed the nite by myself. I can still hear Grandma telling Paulie, "every time I opened my eyes, Ag was there to help me." I found out Paulie spent a lot of time out in the hall.

When Grandma was dying, I was asked if I'd take my turn. It happened that Paul Derks and Father Alfred came that nite too. All at once, we noticed a difference in her breathing. I called the nurse and she was with us. I finally gave Father a push and told him, "Give Mom your blessing." He did and she was gone. I never could figure out what made me say that, but it must of helped to open the gate.

Things I remember told after I wrote the above. She died February 15, 1970. They say when the Joe Lagers came from German, a big storm came. They spent Christmas day on the equator, and later landed in New Orleans, where otherwise it would have been New York.

When we remodeled our house, Grandma wanted to know why I didn't put the cabinets clear around, I informed her that that's where the hallway was to go to get to the bathroom. She informed me that I'd never have that. Later one time after we had installed that bathroom, she mentioned to one of the kids, your folks to have it nice here, I never expected it of them. One time later, she told me, "It was good God put you two together, I don't think August could of made it without you!" It made me feel good.

When Fred was out of high school, he went to college two years and decided he wanted to be a Priest. He went in the Seminary and I don't think he was there a month. He saw August at the milkbarn and told him to inform the folks he wasn't gonna stay.

We got out home that day and they had company from St. Jose – Grandpa's cousins. August watched his turn and after dinner, got Grandma by herself and told her. I remember Paulie saying, "what's the matter with Mom, she's so depressed." Grandma told me afterwards, she couldn't figure out why those people didn't go home so she could talk to Grandpa.

She was in the dumps too during the war when one after the other left for the service. She told me, I don't want to say it too loud, but she was glad when Laurence flunked out and was not taken into the service. She didn't know what Grandpa and she would do without him.

It was a happy day both when Father Alfred's Ordination and First Mass and Sister Alfreda making her Perpetual Vows. They were very happy.

Their Golden Wedding, all was there but Joe. They were expecting a baby and he didn't want to leave Sis by herself.

Grandma felt bad too when Fred got married. It took Grandpa, at that time, to point out Mary's good qualities. Neither of them knew that Fred and Mary wasn't living together when they died. That's when he told us. Although she asked why the family didn't show up. Grandma said "Fred's more like himself, when he's alone." August and I felt the same way.

For sometime after August and I came to Missouri, Grandma and her sister Clara Coppersmith wasn't getting along. It was over their kids. August and I felt both were in the wrong. Uncle Sebastian came and visited with Grandpa and the boys and all was forgiven with them, but that just aggregated Grandma all the more. She even got mad if they'd speak to me. I wasn't here at their quarrel and I was friendly with all. It turned out later, when Meyers was thrashing, Christina came to help fix dinner. Grandma knew they wanted help back and she asked Paulie if she'd go. Paulie didn't want to. So I was asked if I'd go help Aunt Clara. They'd take care of my kids. I really must admit I enjoyed the time I spent with them. Don't know how long they were mad, but I know it was too long, too long.

When my Dad called and told them that August had his leg amputated that nite, Aunt Clara picked up and came right over to help her pack so they could be on the way. At that time, it wasn't decided who would go yet.

During the war my stove was just about gone, I guess it was gone. I think Grandma was invited to one of the kids First Holy Communion. My stove just wasn't baking. I told August he had to work over the stove or I wouldn't cook for him anymore. He worked it over, and I baked bread. It just didn't hardly bake them. During the next week, they came back and told me to pick out a stove. Grandma said, "I figured your stove wore out, cause you would have had good bread if it had been baked right." She gave me two places and I could choose whatever one I wanted. I chose the iron clad one from Holts. I remember Ed telling me – I'd have to keep cooking now cause I had a new stove. The stove came in a crate and they were throwing them back on the truck, I asked if I could have them too. They said, "Sure, and we got more at the stove if you want it." After they left, August asked me what I wanted with those crates. I told him to make lawn chairs out of like Vincent Spire had. It got him to thinking, and he made some. They were the white painted ones and our neighbors all thought how lucky I was cause August made them for me. We had them several years, he claimed one as his.

When Baby Joe was stillborn, and August went to pay the funeral bill, it was already paid. Was told August's folks paid it. Grandma told me they wanted to do something for us and I wasn't looking too good. They thought that could be their help. At that time, she knew she couldn't help anymore.

Grandma was thin when she married. She got where she was very heavy and she told me at one time, she weighed 260 lbs. When she moved to town, she suddenly lost weight. She felt lots better, but still had problems with blood pressure.

After the war, Leo said, "Mom made a big difference." Before the war, they had to hide their alcoholic beverages in the barn, when they came back, they was allowed to keep it in the refrigerator.

For several years Grandma wasn't able to do the laundry. Paulie usually came – changed bedding and did the laundry every week and brought it back the next week. She continued that until dad died.

One day, Grandma told me, the kids won't let me have my baby chicks anymore. That was after they were in town. I jumped Leo about it and he said, "Mom wants them, she sits in corner and watches them and Dad does all the work and he just can't get around that good anymore." I thought it over and decided that they were right, under the circumstances. They didn't need them as Mary Ann raised their chickens for them. I only helped once to dress them. I was having problems with my heart already, at that time, but I tried to take it easy. Later that same year, '63, I had a heart attack and landed in hospital for six weeks. After that, I wasn't asked to help clean Grandma's chickens.

One time when all the children was home, Grandma had told them she had 49 grandchildren and she needed one more to make 50 and Joe Meyer was next to her and said, "You don't need to look at me!" I really thought that was funny.

Just thought of another oddity that I thought it was. Anyway during the winter before dryers, when you had to wait until you could wash, so it would dry according to the weather, she never had the kids change their under clothing until the nite before she washed, that way they always had a pair of clean ones. I was taught that you changed every Saturday nite and went clean to church. So really that was odd where I was concerned. Now our younger generation would think that horrid. Even just changing once a week. As I've said many times, our standard of living has raised a lot.

MY FATHER-IN-LAW

Albert Meyer was the son of Adolph and Augusta Gresbrick Meyer. He was born October 25, 1880 and died May 7, 1971.

Adolph was born in Fishinger, Germany. When he was in his later teens, his father and Grandad died a few months apart. Don't know if they had a disease and they succumb to it. But after that, his mother, Elizabeth came over with her ten children. Adolph was to spent time in the army for Germany. As the tale goes, his sister told it on him. He dressed up like a girl and got on the boat. There he again dressed as a boy and was stowaway on a ship. They settled at Conception. At that time, the name was spelled Maier. Grandma told me that when they got their US Citizenship, they had it changed to Meyer. I think a boy went to Minnesota, and he still carried the name of Maier and his descendents do.

Grandma Meyer told me that Adolph went to St. Joseph and two weeks later came to the Monastery with a girl and a Priest married them. Adolph had three daughters that became nuns.

Never heard anything of their courting day, but Grandpa bought 160 through the length of the section and built a house on North end. It was a 4 room – 2 upstairs and 2 downstairs.

In 1911, when Leo was a baby, they decided to move the buildings from the North end of section to South. It would be so much closer for them to go to school. August was held back so Laurence could start with him. August was seven when he started school. Laurence remembers the move and told us about it. I remember Grandma telling me, they cooked and slept in the buggy shed. Laurence said, he was a Big Boy (5) and got to sleep in the barn with the Big Kids. He said it didn't take long to move the barn, but 6 weeks to move the house. After that they built on 1 room upstairs and the parlor down and a kitchen to the North. Don't know if that was time they got a Delco or not. Anyway, that was there when I came into the family.

I met Grandpa (Albert) in '28. What I remember about that time was a Sunday afternoon at Barney Eicholts pasture, where the young kids were playing ball. The girls came to cheers. But, the men really enjoyed it. I still remember Laurence made a home run and Grandpa jumped high and hit his sides. He was so happy. Later in life, when he was bad in the hospital toward the end of his life, something was said about Barney Eicholts corner, and he looked up and said, "We sure had some wonderful times there."

Grandpa loved Grandma every much. He taught the kids that they had to obey her and her word was always law. He'd always be around somewhere if she needed him. She fell and broke her arm and he waited on her hand and foot. He even ironed clothes for her, which I never saw a man do before.

Grandpa was getting stiff with arthritis, and couldn't get up and down very good. When the boys was leaving for the Service, they used to kid him they'd have to get him an electric uplifter to life him off the milk stool.

When these boys came home from the service, he was a mighty happy man. I remember he told me, "Gee, them kids do eat."

He liked to play cards and he and mom used to go to these card parties and play. They were known for champions. Mom said, one day she and Dad was sitting waiting to start and a couple of ladies came in and said, "Can't we go anyplace you ain't." Mother said, she and Dad (Albert) really had good times there, after the war, when the boys was home.

Dad fell a lot, but never broke a bone. He'd tell Grandma, he just couldn't navigate his legs. He had no pain. One time when she went to Dr., she insisted he go. He went and the doctor told them that he was in good shape considering his age. That really made Grandma disgusted. He only wore reading glasses, even toward the end.

When August and I left from our honeymoon, he told me – "Don't fix your home too nice, as you do need to live in it." I got along fine with Grandpa. He used to praise me for how nice I kept my kids dressed and he knew I made all their clothes.

When we had problems, I'd tell them when Grandpa was around, it seemed he'd always make it easier.

One think you had to know that was when you had your plate full, Grandpa usually had his empty already and pushing back from the table to get his smoke. He smoked to the very end. That was if the nurse would let him have it.

Grandpa was an easy going man. He was one that didn't look very far ahead. He never wanted to get very deep into debt. He never understood why some people wanted to make it so much better than he.

When I came into the family, he and his boys was still plowing with a walking plow also cultivating their corn that way. When we came back, August was hunting riding plows. Grandpa told him, of course he had to have them, but he couldn't raise as good a crop with them. When the boys came home from service, they went to GI School and learned up to date farming methods and they bought a tractor. Leo and Alfred bought the farmplace from them and built a milkbarn and went to milking. The folks was to see us and both were afraid, the boys was biting off more than they could chew. I don't believe they ever had as hard a time as Grandpa did in the 30's. At that time, I remember he'd take corn and wheat to the mill and have it ground into cornmeal and flour, bran and shorts. Grandma used the shorts to make pancakes with. She often cooked whole wheat as cereal. Corn bread was a must at their house. They could eat it three times a day with real fat meat.

Grandpa lived about 14 months after Grandma died. He wanted the kids to take him to the funeral home and leave him alone with her awhile. He was in the wheel chair already at that time. I think he was in it a couple of years before that. After a while, someone stepped in and he was ready to go home. He was at her funeral and it got the best of him, when they came up and offered him sympathy. He wanted to go home after the funeral, he wouldn't stay for dinner. One of the kids brought him a plate from the hall.

Dad usually stayed by himself during the day and Leo came in at night and stayed with him. After grandma died, time slipped away very slowly, and then he was hospitalized and the family was trying to get him into a nursing home. Grandpa had very keen ears. His hearing was extra good. He heard the doctors talking about him, saying he was good enough to move and would be, as soon as there was an opening in a nursing home. In less than an hour, he was bad and only lasted a couple of days after that. He did not want to go to a rest home.

Grandpa was always very careful of his language. I never heard him say a cuss word or tell any dirty stories. He very seldom took a drink. One time Robert Ellerman stopped by and Dad and he talked. It was shortly before Christmas and he offered Dad some Christmas cheer. When he came in the house, Grandma asked what Robert wanted and he said, "Nothing, he just wanted to visit and offered me some Christmas cheer." She said, "You didn't take any?" He said, "Why not? It didn't hurt me." I don't think Grandma talked to him that night for a while. But Grandpa never had any around.

At the reunion in 1988, Roger Meyer asked Laurence if he knew what happened and who went to Texas to get rid of the place Adolph had bought there for one of his sons. As years went by, none was interested in going. He still kept it and when he died, the family voted Grandpa (Albert) to go to Texas and sell the place cause it was too far away, they couldn't keep tabs on it. Laurence had forgotten all about it until Roger brought it up. Roger and his wife have visited that town in Texas and were surprised as it was a real nice farming community, why no one wanted to live there.

When Grandpa was a young man, they were building the Adoration Chapel at the convent and he was hired to help build that. And years later his son, August, helped build the Relic Chapel. Two beautiful buildings that remain of the hard work they did.
